BIOGRAPH

BIOGRAPH

Nursing a Viper

A story of the French Revolution which affords material for one of the most thrilling moving picture subjects ever attempted.
The costuming, staging and locale, together with the acting, is most convincing. This, coupled with a photographic excellence that is superlative, makes it a production of rare value.

In addition to this Biograph there will be another good reel,
also an ILLUSTRATED SONG.

DIES PLAYING ON SCHOOL GROUNDS

Lloyd Baumgardner, Son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Baumgardner, Dies
Suddenly while Playing with Children at Scott's School.

Lloyd Baumgardner, of Franklin township, fell dead shortly after noon
on Friday while playing with a number of school mates at Scott's school, one mile North of Orrtanna. The boy was only sixteen years of age. Death is ascribed to Heart Disease.

The boy was playing at the noon recess with a number of other school children but stopped, saying that he did not feel well. He went to the front of the school where he sat down.
Suddenly he fell over and in a few moments was dead. Medical aid was summoned but death had followed instantly.

It had been known for some time
that he was afflicted with Heart Disease but on Friday he seemed to be in the best of health and spirits and his death was a great shock to his family and friends. The body was removed to his home about one mile distant and school was conducted as usual in the afternoon but little work could be done by either teacher or scholars.

Surviving him are his parents, Mr.
and Mrs. S. H. Baumgardner, four brothers and two sisters.

Funeral Sunday afternoon at one o'clock with interment at Flohr's Church.

TEACHERS' MEETINGS

Hamilton Township

The teachers of Hamilton township
met in an educational meeting Nov.
24, at Green Ridge School. The meeting was called to order by the President, J. Guy Wolf, after which the following topics were discussed:
"How to get the idle pupil to work,"
J. Guy Wolf, followed by Mr. Jacobs;
"Object of the recitation," by Gertie
M. Baker. E. Bruce Jacobs then made a very able address, the school furnishing the entertainment part of program. All the teachers were present except Mr. Baker. Two directors were present also. A collection of 79 cents was received. The meeting was well attended by patrons and friends and proved a success. The meeting then adjourned to meet January 4, 1910, at Seven Hundred School.

Menallen Township

The third educational meeting for Menallen twp., was held at Cottage Hill School house, Charlotte M. Wal-hay, teacher. After miscellaneous business and the reading of the minutes
the following program was rendered:
music discussion on Primary Reading
by C. M. Walhay and J. B. Bushey; music by Mr. Ames, who delighted the audience with several selections
on a set of Swiss Bells; discussion:
Busy Seat Work by Miss Lula Hoffman; music by Mr. Ames. The discussion on "Discipline" was opened by M. E. Haines, followed by J. B.
Bushey and C. M. Walhay. The program was interspersed by songs and music by the school. The following teachers were present present, Miss Lula Hoffman, Ethel Baugher, Charlotte Walhay, Messrs. M. E. Haines and J. B. Bushey. The next meeting will be held at Pleasant Valley.

Cumberland Township

The fourth monthly meeting of the teachers of Cumberland township was held Friday evening at McCurdy's School at Greenmount. John Black discussed, "Music as an Aid in School Discipline." Miss Edith Mickley
and Miss Mabel Bollinger discussed
"The Purpose of the Recitation" and Miss Tostle gave talk on "History in the G. ades." The entertainment part of the program was given by the members of the school of which Miss Mary Rudisill is the teacher and proved to be most enjoyable. The time of the next meeting has not been fixed but it will not be held until after Christmas.

TWO RECITALS

On Friday evening the pupils of Miss Carrie Hamilton gave the second of two recitals at her home on North Washington street. The class was divided into two parts and both recitals were attended by the parents and friends of the pupils. All acquitted themselves most creditably, reflecting a great deal of credit on themselves and their instructress. Those in the class are: Arthur Hutchison, Mrs.
Hennig, Ruth Bender, Ethel Zinkand,
Margaret Williams, Rex Gilbert,
Ruth Spangler, Marguerite Frommeyer,
Lillian Rowe, Lillian Kissingner,
Marian Blocher, Elsie Horner, Nora Hartzel, Mamie Biddle, Henry Gar-
vin, Evangeline Sieber, Ruth Gilbert, Genevieve Power, Hannah Cook, Ros-
ellen Gilbert, Mary Scott, Eva Stock,
George Sachs, Wilda Holtzworth, Florence Culp, Marian Sheely, Howard Spangler.

TRAMPS FIGHT AT COUNTY HOME

Lively Mix-up at Alms House when Ten Hobes Get into a Fight Over Sleeping Quarters. One Arrested.

Rough house reigned in the neighborhood of the County Home on Friday night until Detective Wilson was summoned by a hurry call and dispersed an angry crowd of knights of the road who had gotten into quite a mix-up.

The tramps who apply for sleeping quarters over night are assigned by Steward Beard to the pest house which has been fitted up with several rooms
and a few stoves for this purpose.
Friday evening two wanderers applied for admission and were given quarters for the night. Not long afterward eight others appeared on the scene and were also sent to the pest house.

The early birds claimed the worm was theirs and refused to share with the double quartet. The latter threatened an invasion and in fact started to put their threat into execution when they met with vigorous resistance from the occupants of the building.

Vile oaths and a lively mix-up followed. Blood flowed freely and the ten men made night hideous generally.
Fearing that some serious trouble would follow, Steward Beard sent in a hurry call for Mr. Wilson who soon arrived on the scene with the Hotel Gettysburg bus pressed into service as a patrol wagon. One of the pair causing the trouble had fled but the other was soon landed in the county jail. The eight then took possession and spent a peaceful night.

PLAN TO DOUBLE TRACK READING

Talk in Railroad Circles that Philadelphia and Reading Road will be Double Tracked between this Place and the Junction.

A rumor is current in railroad circles at Harrisburg that the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad will in the near future take up the work of double tracking the road between Gettysburg and Carlisle Junction. The road between the latter place and Harrisburg was double tracked several years ago. Local railroad men know nothing of the proposed improvement.

The present amount of freight and passenger traffic is handled very well with the single track but in the tourist season the double track would be a great convenience and would do much toward facilitating the handling of the trains. However 1913 is what is being taken into consideration.

At the time of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle it will be practically impossible for the railroad with its present tracks to handle the immense crowds which will come to Gettysburg, and a double track will be a necessity.

The nature of the work will cause
it to require several years to complete,
as the road between here and the Junction is full of fills and cuts and it would be a task of great magnitude.
Gettysburgians will await with interest some definite information concerning the project.

COUNTY L. T. L. MEETING

Arendtsville, Nov. 27.—A meeting of the County Association of the Loyal Temperance Legion was held last evening, at the home of Mrs. A. I. Weidner, Arendtsville.

This being the first meeting held since the State Convention at Gettysburg, it was necessary to discharge the different convention committees. This was done after hearing a very satisfactory report from the convention treasurer.

Several short discussions followed,
and a new method of collecting the dues was decided upon.

A committee was appointed to draw up resolutions on the death of M. F.
Bushey, and send them to his son, Fremont Bushey of Harrisburg, a former member of the association.

The literary program was then taken up as follows: a song by the association; recitation, M. Myrtle Watkins; duet, Nettie Trostle and Rose Plafk; recitation, Esther V. Peters; monologue, Mrs. Arthur Griest; closing song.

The social part of the evening was spent playing games arranged by the hostess. In one of these the members were asked to fill in the adjectives of a poem. When read it proved to be "Maud Muller," greatly changed.

SURPRISE PARTY

On Saturday evening a surprise party was given at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Peter Musser, R. D. 2, Orrtanna, in honor of their son, Charles,
it being his 21st birthday. The house was decorated with pine, laurel and autumn leaves, chrysanthemums and potted plants. The evening was spent in games and music on the graphophone and organ. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Musser, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bittinger, Misses Mary
Dillon, Emma Hall, Mary Musser,
Marie Berkey Grace Brady, Bertha
Hall, Mary Beck, Pauline Hall, Lillian Baker, Susan Brady, Clara Baker, Messrs. John Hall, George Brady,
Allen Woodward, Frank Dillon, Charles Wingert, Charles Musser, Francis Kenneman, Francis Beck, and Lloyd Cooley. At a late hour refreshments were served, cakes, candy, bananas, and lemonade, etc., after which all departed for their homes wishing Charles many happy returns.

Charles received many beautiful presents and cards for which he extends his sincere thanks to his many friends.

A Guest.

WEDNESDAY EVENING

Teachers' Institute, Male Concert Company. "The concert and entertainment given by the Commonwealth
Male Quartet of Boston under the auspices of the Grinnell Class of the Congregational Church Tuesday evening was a great success. The quartet which came very highly recommended lived up to its reputation as was proved by the enthusiastic applause which greeted each selection."—Fairhaven, Mass.

Evening Attractions

The evening attractions of the teachers' institute promise to be exceptionally good. They are as follows:
Monday evening, lecture, Dr. John Merritt Driver; Tuesday evening,
musical comedy, "Her American Husband"; Wednesday evening, concert, Commonwealth Male Quartette; Thursday evening, entertainment and concert, The Vassar Girls.

HARVEST OF THE REAPER

Littlestown Loses Well-Known Resident in Death of Mr. Stonesifer.
Ernest Jacobs Dies after Illness
of Three Years.

AUSTIN E. STONESIFER

Austin E. Stonesifer died at his home in Littlestown Thursday morning after an illness of about one year,
from a complication of diseases, aged about 60 years.

Mr. Stonesifer moved from Union
Mills, Md., to Littlestown about 15 years ago, where he had been superintendent of the canning factory of the B. F. Shriver Company. He was held in high esteem by the citizens of Littlestown, and his long service with the Shriver Company attested his integrity as a business man.

The deceased is survived by a widow, who was Miss Tillie Bankert, of Carroll county, Md., five daughters and two sons. The daughters are, Misses Lovina and Emma Stonesifer, at home; Miss M. Helen Stonesifer, a teacher in the public schools of Altoona; Miss Pauline Stonesifer, a teacher in the Hanover schools and Miss Naomi Stonesifer, a student at the Millersville Normal School. The sons are Stanley and Bernard Stonesifer, both of Littlestown.

He is also survived by six brothers—
Jacob Stonesifer, of near St. Bartholomew's Church; Joseph Stonesifer, of Carroll county; William Stonesifer, of Harrisburg; Calvin Stonesifer, of Hanover; Simon C. Stonesifer, of Chambersburg; and Isaac Stonesifer,
of Union Mills Md. and three sisters—Mrs. Sarah E. Harner, of McSherry-town; Mrs. Lydia C. Hefley and Mrs.
Eliza J. Heltmiller, of Carroll county.

Funeral today at 11 a. m. Services at the house and interment in Mt.
Carmel Cemetery, Littlestown, Rev.
Dr. Batz, officiating.

EARNEST JACOBS

Ernest Jacobs, son of William Jacobs, died at his home in Butler township at seven o'clock this morning from tuberculosis of the thigh bone aged 24 years. The young man had been ill for three years.

Surviving him are his parents, several brothers and sisters.

Funeral Monday morning, meeting
at the house at ten o'clock.

MARIAN I. SMICK

Marian Irene Smick, the five months old daughter of Harvey Smick and wife, of Allequippa, died at her home in that place on Nov. 19th after a short illness of pneumonia. The body was brought home and interment made at Ground Oak Church near Idaville on Monday morning, Rev. H. Bickel, officiating.

THE LURE OF THE NORTH POLE

The almost incredible hardships, the difficulties and dangers that lie in the paths to the North Pole will be reproduced by Lyman H. Howe in the Walter Theatre on Wednesday, December 1st. The scenes are guaranteed to be absolutely authentic in every respect. The whole dramatic story is told in exactly the sequence in which the grim fight was fought. The whole series reveals the story of the repoch-making event which the whole world has awaited for several centuries. It is a graphic revelation of the vicissitudes and exciting adventures in the arctic seas.

The week of aeroplane races in France was a week of wonders which are also included in the program. The novelty of the spectacular yet actual flights keeps the mind busy trying to adjust itself to man's new achievement shown as one of many other big features included in one program.

TWO AVIATORS KILLED

It is Believed That Balloon Was Struck By Lightning.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—The two men are reported from Flume of Dr. Breckmann and Hugo Franke, two members of the Berlin Aero club. These two daring members of the club are said to have lost their lives in a balloon ascension. They went up here in the balloon Kelmair.

Dr. Breckmann was a well known aeronaut, whose balloon was fired on by Cossacks on the Russian frontier some months ago. He and Mr. Franke started out to beat the long distance record of Count de la Vaulx. It is supposed that the balloon was struck by lightning and that the envelope was torn to pieces.

The bodies of the two men were found near Flume. Dr. Breckmann was connected with the Charity hospital here and Mr. Franke was an architect of note. The place where the bodies were found is five hundred miles from Berlin.

There appears to be some mystery connected with the accident. The officials of the Aero club say that Breckmann was found with his eyes bandaged with a black cloth.

It is suggested that either Breckmann died before Franke and the latter bound his companion's eyes, or that Breckmann did not want to witness the death of his friend and so bandaged his own eyes.

FOX HUNTING WITH A LOCOMOTIVE

Killed Animal With Lever After Chase With an Engine.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Nov. 27.—Fox hunting with a locomotive is a new form of the sport which was tried with success by Matt Cannon, drill master of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad yards at Halstead. He was returning from New Milford on a yard locomotive when he saw some distance ahead a silver gray fox limping along in a manner which showed that it had evidently been chased for a long time and was tired.

Cannon signaled the engineer, and the locomotive dashed after the fox which, frightened, ran on for some distance, but was so weary that Cannon was finally able to jump from the locomotive, overtake it, and kill it with a brake lever. He has been offered $40 for the skin.

FIVE PERSONS DROWN

Fearing Explosion in Launch, Wedding Party Capsized Boat.

Muskegon, Mich., Nov. 27.—Five persons, four of them members of the same family, were drowned when a twenty-two-foot pleasure launch, carrying a party of Muskegon young people across Muskegon lake to a wedding, capsized. When the boat was within 150 yards of the landing one of the girls noticed a fire near the center of the boat. Nelson assured them that there was no danger. The occupants became panic-stricken and believed the boat would blow up. All crowded to the stern of the boat. This caused the little craft to fill and it tipped from end to end. Five of the party sank to death, but four others were rescued.

The dead are: Oscar, Hula, Anna and Jennie Carlson, ages ranging from eighteen to twenty-eight years; Anna Saunders, aged twenty-one years.

Charges of Falsehood Have Caused Nervous Breakdown.

New York, Nov. 27.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, is reported seriously ill at the home of a friend in New York. Not even close friends are permitted to see him.

Dr. Cook's health gave way under the strain to which he has been subjected since his return from the Arctic regions, and the charges of falsehood made against him are declared to have caused his collapse. He came to Manhattan from his Bronxville hotel, and his wife joined him there.

The records of Dr. Cook's Polar expedition are on their way to Copenhagen.

PAYS CABBY BIG BILL

Trenton Physician Assessed $2000 For Breaking Man's Nose.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 27.—Richard Nolan, a cab driver, was allowed $2000 damages in the Mercer county court against Dr. William M. Laylor, one of Trenton's best known residents, because of injuries the physician is alleged to have inflicted.

Nolan claimed that Dr. Laylor began beating his horse with a walking stick because he asked him to get out of the way. The cab driver, according to the evidence, struck the physician with his whip to protect the animal. Dr. Laylor, it was alleged, then broke Nolan's jaw with his stick.

High Wind Caused Two Deaths.

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 27.—A high wind, which blew down the chimney and closed the damper of a parlor stove, caused the death by coal gas of Charles Herrick and Miss Ida Lydston, his housekeeper, in East Lynn.

CANNON TO WAR ON INSURGENTS

Must Fight Them as We Do Bryan, He Says.

DEFENDS HOUSE RULES

Speaker Declares They Are Necessary For the Conduct of the Business of Congress and Must Stay. Praises the Tariff Bill.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 27.—"When Senators Cummins, La Follette, Brister and their so-called 'progressive' following join hands with Mr. Bryan in making war upon the Republican members of congress, who passed the tariff bill, and upon the president who signed it, in that contest I know of but one way to treat them, and that is to fight them just as we fight Mr. Bryan and his following."

Such was the declaration of Speaker Cannon, who delivered the principal address before the Knife and Fork club here. Mr. Cannon said Senator Cummins alone had read himself out of the Republican party. He defended the rules of the house, saying they will remain substantially as they have been, and are so long as there is a congress. "Ever since history began," said the speaker, "the man in the minority has been seeking some device by which he could overcome the will of the majority."

Praising Payne Tariff Bill. Mr. Cannon asserted that while the Payne tariff law is not perfect, it is the best one ever passed under Republican leadership, that since the enactment of the new law production in this country and imports from foreign countries have greatly increased, and day by day conditions are improving. The "insurgents" and their followers, he said, are seeking to hinder the progress of prosperity by criticism and denunciation, and this, too, within three months of the enactment of the tariff law. Only such agitation can halt the prospective era of prosperity, said the speaker.

Continuing, Mr. Cannon said: "The demagogue we have always with us, and as ours is a government of the people the only way to dispose of him is to move on. I am perfectly willing to trust the verdict of a prosperous and happy people in the election in November, 1910, after the new tariff law has been in operation for over a year."

Referring to the fight for revision of the rules so as to give the minority more power, Speaker Cannon had this to say for Champ Clark, the Democratic leader:

"Mr. Clark knows Aesop's fables by heart, and he has formulated much of his political philosophy on them. In one of these fables the wolves wanted the sheep to dismember the dogs and employ the wolves to defend them. Mr. Clark's committee on rules would have given the wolves protection to the detriment of the sheep. The Republican majority of the house, with a clear majority in support of the tariff bill, would have been helpless in any effort to register its will, because any resolution for a special rule to bring the bill to a vote would have had to be referred to the committee on rules, dominated by Champ Clark, leader of the minority and leader of the efforts to prevent the enactment of the bill."

Democrats Take Same Rules. Mr. Cannon declared that Mr. Clark has always been regular in his own party, and quoted the rule of the house when it was under Democratic rule to show that their party also favored regulations which gave it control of legislation. He thus defended the rules.

"In the Fifty-first congress, presided over by Speaker Reed changes were made to prevent filibustering and enable the majority to conduct the business for which it was responsible. The Democratic minority denounced these changes as despotic and revolutionary and succeeded in inflaming the country against Mr. Reed as a tyrant who throttled the will of the people's representatives."

"But in the Fifty-third congress, when they had a tariff bill to enact, they made a clean sweep of their old prejudices and took these rules to their breasts as though they had originated them. They went further and enlarged the power of the committee on rules by giving it authority to sit during the sessions of the house and report at any time and without previous notice."

CANNON'S STRENGTH

Congressman Boutell Says There is No Doubt About It.

Washington, Nov. 27.—"Speaker Cannon was never stronger before the people than he is today," declared Representative Boutell, of Illinois, after a call at the White House. "I know two men who have told me," continued Mr. Boutell, "that they would have been glad if they could have cut off their right arms to pay for having opposed Abraham Lincoln in 1864. I think that there will be many who will feel the same way about their opposition to Mr. Cannon."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or impact hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FOOTBALL PLAYER DYING

West Virginia University Boy Hurt In W. and J. Game.

Conneville, Pa., Nov. 27.—Word was received here from Morgantown, W. Va., that Rudolph Munk, the right halfback on the West Virginia university football team, is dying from injuries received Thursday in the annual game with Washington and Jefferson college. Munk has been unconscious ever since taken from the game and has been kept alive by the hypodermic administration of stimulants.

Munk's injury was received when he was tackled. His head struck the ground violently. He was able to get into the next play, but then toppled over unconscious and was carried off the field.

The top of his spine is thought to be hurt, while a severe concussion of the brain resulted. His condition is such that an operation has not been attempted.

THE PHILLIES SOLD TO A SYNDICATE

National League Club Passes to New Owners.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—The Philadelphia National League Base Ball club was sold by its political owners to a western syndicate for a sum said to be in the neighborhood of half a million dollars.

At a meeting following the transfer of stock, Horace S. Fogel, the widely known sporting writer, was elected president of the new club. The deal for the sale of the club has been pending for a number of weeks, and was engineered by Charles Webb Murphy, owner of the Chicago National League club.

The officers of the new club are: President, Horace S. Fogel; W. Conaway, book manufacturer, secretary; Frank Elliott, real estate operator, treasurer; John F. Schwartz, shirt manufacturer, director, and Thomas Curley, of Camden, director.

John Kling, the famous catcher of the Chicago National League club, who has been on the outs with his team for a year, probably will be secured to manage the Phillies. Fogel was in Chicago last week and there deposited fifteen thousand dollars to purchase Kling's release, and there seems to be no doubt that his efforts will be successful.

More than half a million dollars have been invested by the club's new owners, and Mr. Fogel has deposited $105,000 in a Philadelphia bank to cover current expenses.

CORPORATIONS' BIG TAX

Will Give Government Estimated Net Revenue of $25,000,000.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The corporation tax regulations are complete and ready for the printer. It has been a great task to meet all the complexities of the law and the expected attacks upon it by the corporations.

The latest estimates indicate a net revenue under it of approximately $25,000,000 annually, and 122,000 corporations are likely to have to pay corporation taxes.

Gas Explosion Kills Two.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Mrs. Margaret Smith, aged thirty-five years, and Mrs. Minnie Wright, aged fifty years, were killed by a gas explosion in a boarding house in North street. A jet leaked all night. The landlady traced gas to the room and burst in the door just as Mrs. Wright had applied a match to the leaky jet. The fire loss was slight.

$12,000 From Hunting Licenses.

Monticello, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Nearly 11,000 hunting licenses have been issued in Sullivan county since Oct. 15, which means that more than $12,000 has been paid for licenses alone for the pleasure of hunting partridges, rabbits and deer during the last six weeks.

GATES ON STOCK FARMS.

Those of Steel Recommended For Convenience and Protection.

It is a common observation that comparatively few farmers are awake to the advantages and economic importance of practical, dependable gates for protection and convenience, says the Breeder's Gazette, Chicago. Their tolerance of the crude, ineffective affairs used as gates argues a want of enterprise and business judgment that in some sections is astonishing.

Experiences are common in every agricultural community that should induce stockmen, particularly breeders of pedigreed stock, to maintain their gates and fences in the best possible condition. Many a two dollar gate has allowed stock to smash through it and destroy $50 worth of grain. A saving of 50 cents in making or repairing cheap, inferior gates often results in a loss equivalent to the cost of enough first class steel gates to supply an entire farm. There is no economy in the average type of plank or wood on gate.

Stock farmers, above all others, realize the importance of gates that will do reliable duty all the time and every where. Where pure bred stock is maintained it is reckless extravagance to use doubtful gates. Live stock breeders cannot afford to risk poorly constructed plank gates that are short lived and easily wrecked. If they are heavy enough to be reasonably strong they are too expensive in many communities to warrant their use, especially in the face of opportunities to employ steel gates costing less in the long run. Hundreds of costly accidents and complications in the conduct of a breeding farm are traceable to gates that fall of their duty.

Attention is called to this question in the belief that it is entitled to the serious consideration of all stock farmers. Gates are a large factor in successful husbandry. No farmer can secure the full results of his work or make the most of his opportunities if the gate problem is not solved with him. Ignored, it is sure to cause accidents and trouble representing hundreds of dollars. Good business farmers will not ignore it.

We recommend no special make of steel gate. It is the type that we here approve and urge as a new and significant departure. Wooden gates of modern, improved design should always be given preference wherever cost and service favor them as against other types. Whether the one or the other shall be adopted is a simple question of dollars and cents, to be decided on that basis and in accordance with individual conditions and predilections. There is a large place for both wooden and steel gates in agriculture, but a comparison based on all the qualities required in an efficient farm gate makes the steel type a favorite with thousands of corn belt farmers.

THE VETERINARY.

A mixture of equal parts of licorice and ginger in the hog feed two or three times each day is recommended for the pig that coughs. A lump of coal tar placed well down its throat while the pig is held on its feet is also good.

For Colic In Horses.

Turpentine for horses suffering from colic is used externally as follows: Pour about a tablespoonful on the loin and let it run down the horse's side. Rub it well into the hair, and wherever it has touched the horse grease the place well that the hair may not fall out.

Medicine For Swine.

A large raiser of hogs says that one of the most valuable things he has ever learned is that hogs need a large amount of potash. He uses a fourth to a half box of lye such as can be bought in the stores to a barrel of soaked corn slops or shorts when feeding. He says that worms, coughing, stunted hogs will soon make a marvelous change for the better.

A Cure For Windgalls.

Windgalls, dropsical or made by overexertion, may be caused to disappear, according to Dr. Law, by persistent pressure with bandages and pads. Apply at first two hours twice a day and thereafter two hours once per day until they can be kept on all the time. It may require five or six weeks and must be stopped if it causes inflammation in the sack.

Treatment For Big Head.

One of the first symptoms of big head is loss of vitality and irregular appetite, followed by shifting lameness; another is bone lameness and symptoms of rheumatism. Later the bones and jaw, together with the nose, begin to swell. The bureau of animal industry recommends that lime and phosphorus be administered in an assimilable form and that the rations should contain beans, cowpeas, oats, cottonseed meal and other materials rich in mineral salts.—Dr. McEwen in Farm Journal.

GRAY HAIRS BANISHED

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark glossy hair at the age of seventy-five while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy and gradually restored the natural color. One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days on account of its souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow. It is sold by all druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by People's Drug Store.

DON'TS.

Don't show bad taste and space waste by decorating your stationery with a rooster menagerie. The rooster pen is not mightier than the truthful pen.

Don't fail to advertise in your own town paper unless you have been unloading culls on your neighbors. That's culinary art, but it shows a Judas heart.

Don't expect to set the river on fire if you're a monumental liar. Lies about chickens recoil like the dickens.

Don't put all the big eggs on top the crate. Your buyer will pay for second rate and scratch your address off his slate.

Don't present tough hens to your swell city cousins. They eat fancy capons and broilers by dozens.

Don't let that temper get the best of you when your neighbor's scratcher shoe. He that is cruel is the devil's tool.

Don't use the whole English vocabulary to describe a hen. A long hen tale oft spoils a big hen sale.

Don't lose your head when you write the ad. that birds have led. They that advertise lies are unwise.

Don't build roosts stepladder style. Your fowls will fight all night. Make them movable, low and level.

Don't knock at the judge for debarring your Black Langshan if he has yellow soles to his feet.

Don't chew the rag if your Blue Andalusian gets fired if it's lousy and has chicken pox.

They do things in a liberal way sometimes in New Jersey. At a grange picnic and fair held the past summer it is estimated that 50,000 people were present. It took 500 chickens, 3,000 ears of corn and several quarters of beef to satisfy the hungry farmers and their families. The manager of the affair went out and bought a whole field of corn from a nearby farmer.

THE PREACHER'S CLUCKIN' MEN.

Our preacher had a cluckin' hen That set 'em 'er 'er 'er 'er 'er 'er. He ducked 'er, tied 'er, shut 'er up. And still it mattered not.

At last he turned her out to graze Within the old churchyard. He thought he'd stop her settin' craze. Her mother love retard.

But Biddy winked the other eye And flew into the church. The parson hunted low and high, At last gave up the search.

There in a quiet, darkened spot Behind the preaching stand That slick old hen just sot an' sot An' sot to beat the band.

One Sunday morning sweet and fair We all sat in our pews As pastor rose with solemn air To proclaim gospel truths.

"My subject is 'The Faithful Hen'— 'Whoever one cluck that door!' Just mark the text when you get home. It's Luke xiii, 34."

Now, just the very night before, Those chicklets broke the shell, So Mammy Hen got awful mad When preacher gave a yell.

And when he stamped and clapped his hands To get 'em extra ticks That old cluck quick concluded He was up to his old tricks.

With a squawkin' and a squappin', She flew over parson's chair And lit square on his bald spot And started on a tear.

The sermon and the feathers flew, The sisters faintly dead, While that old cluck scratched up his face Like an old garden bed.

I'll not repeat all preacher said When from his faint he awoke. I'll simply warn you, when he calls, Cut out all chicken jokes. C. M. B.

BROODY BIDDY.

Why do some relegate the cluck to the scrap pile with the hoopskirts and tallow dips?

Well, the incubator fellows want business. See? Artificial hatching prevents the brooding instinct in many flocks.

A thoughtless man sets a restless hen and gets a sour lemon, and then, oh, my, how things fly.

But really most hens set, and set well, if given a tin can and only half a chance.

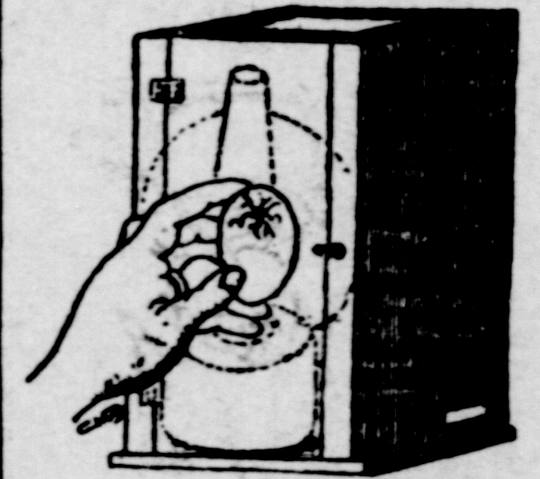

Pick a medium sized, earnest, quiet cluck, dust her, set her in a quiet corner, let her off the nest every other day, but see that she returns in time.

Let her know that you are master, spank her gently when necessary and always remember that she is a female hen and thus be patient when she is contrary.

Have whole corn, clean water and dust handy, and mind if she doesn't hatch just dandy.

HOMEMADE EGG TESTER.

Make your own tester. Take a box fourteen inches high, with sides nine inches wide. Place door in front, cut hole in door one and one-half inches in diameter opposite flame and put an ordinary reflector back of a common lamp. Light passing from opening through egg quickly informs you if hatching eggs are good or market eggs are fossils.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.

Cock and bull fights ushered in the new Cuban government. Countries that now see amusement in them will some day see the devil of them.

"Cast not your pearls before swine." Remember this when your passions rise To scratch out some fool knocker's eyes.

There is no green food for chicks equal to young, tender clover on the sod. They will hunt the four leaf clover and bring you luck.

It is a wise poultryman who has an original cut made of his fowls. There are only a few dealers in cuts, and they sell the same to so many that to some papers we see a half dozen advertisers using a similar picture. If you sell thoroughbreds it's rasping to see a cut dealer using the same illustration.

The call for laying pullets from such cities as New York and Philadelphia shows that our city friends are determined to have dependable eggs. As the demand was greater than the supply, the prices were high. Better raise more this year.

Our winter egg trade was mostly private, parties buying up our product and shipping to relatives and friends at a distance as well as using them at home. This style trade pays and saves trouble.

Now, when eggs get real cheap get rid of the mere layers, for in a short time they will not be payers.

A great many buy the hover and heating parts to a brooder and build the house part themselves. A brooder three feet wide, six feet long, three feet front and two feet rear costs complete $20, and the brooding and heating parts separate are rated at $7. If a man's handy with tools he ought to save money on the job.

The Russians, Hungarians and Bohemians still use goose quill pens, most of the people in those countries can only make their cross, a quill can fill the bill.

WANTED several good second hand stoves. Will trade furniture for same. Apply C. A. Sprengle, 142 Carlisle street.

Conkey's Roup Cure in the drinking water cures those sneezing, swollen-headed fowls. A 50c package makes 25 gallons medicine. J. H. Collier, flower.

THE SHOW GIRL

"The Show Girl," B. C. Whitney's famous Broadway success, winking and kicking her dainty toes, will be seen at the Walter Theatre, Saturday, December 4th. There is nothing to carp at in "The Show Girl." All that it presumes to offer is a couple of hours of pleasant amusement, and it succeeds admirably in its mission. The drollest of droll comedians and bright and pretty girls, who sing and dance with an abandon of vivacity that is irresistible, comprises the entertainment. An organization of metropolitan favorites will be seen here.

A Dollar Made is a Dollar Saved

You will find that by purchasing goods from the

Gettysburg Supply House

You will save the dollars.

In gas goods we have the Lindsey lights and mantels. Twice the light for half the cost.

If you are in need of anything in the gas goods line it will pay you to see our stock.

In nickel plated goods we have bought only the best manufactured and are selling them at a very short profit. If you look our line over you will be convinced that our goods and prices are right. We also carry porcelain tubs, lavatorys, commodes and sinks which are handsome and at a price to suit the purchaser. We install all fixtures sold if desired, by practical plumbers. Plumbing repair work done promptly and neatly.

We also carry a small stock of hardware which will be enlarged and completed in the near future.
